Air Travel Has Just Became Far Easier

Up until recently I had just about had enough of my job - I can hear you all asking why Steve? Well perhaps it is the fact that I am becoming somewhat older than I used to be but the travelling was just becoming too much. I have a career where I am expected and required to travel to many different countries. Some of you may think that this would be a good thing and for many years, again when I was younger, it was. As I say I have probably been doing it for much too long now!

But as I said in the opening line of this article that was until recently. So what has happened to change things I can again hear you asking? About nine months ago a business colleague enquired as to why I never use the valet parking service. I replied it was because that I was not that aware of what it was or what it provided - call me clueless if you feel the need.

This business associate is called Paul (he sells promotional magic cubes) and he looked at me as if I was some kind of lunatic - I could kind of tell that he was thinking along the lines of - you are a frequent flyer and you do not know about the valet parking services. In truth it is rather bizarre, perhaps I have been walking round with my eyes closed and my ears covered lol.

As you can no doubt tell I have now started to use the valet parking service and I have to say that it does make life one heck of a lot easier. Instead of having to find a place to park when I arrive at the airport I merely go to the meeting area and hand over the keys - on arrival back in the country I go back to where I left the keys and my car is waiting for me - bliss!
