On our recent short holiday in Margate, Leslay and I had the privilege of meeting Willie and Dot van den Berg. As South Africans, we love our braai's and, one evening around a braai fire, we started chatting about some of the great holidays we had, when Willie and Dot started to tell us about their 3 month holiday experience in Europe. There was however one vast difference about this holiday, in that they captured it in a book. Willie gave me the opportunity to read the book and I found it amazing to see the detailed planning and record keeping that they did during their trip. Besides the wonderful holiday, this book is like a Project Manager's guide. If one can follow Willie and Dot's concept in planning your future holidays, you will have piece of mind regarding your holiday trip and all your expenses. Well done, it will certainly give great reading pleasure and insight to many people planning their overseas holidays. Thanks again for the great reading, it will remain memorable.
